WEBINAR

for librarians in ecological education

2022 plans and opportunities

Dear colleagues,

In the new year we get many interesting and useful things to do in ecological education and SDGs promotion. At the webinar, you will learn about major All-Russia and international initiatives, among them:

- annual IFLA Green Library Award (and other IFLA projects);
- All-Russia contest “Libraries and sustainable development: Steps forward”;
- Second International Online-conference under the aegis of the World Professional Forum “The Book. Culture. Education. Innovations” “Libraries, ecology and sustainable development: Theory and practice”, and others.

By promoting sustainable development ideas the libraries meet the challenges of the present day and contribute to the solution of many global problems.

WEBINAR MODERATOR:

Elena F. Bychkova, Candidate of Science in Pedagogy, Leading Researcher, Head of Ecology and Sustainable Development Group, Russian National Public Library for Science and Technology

WEBINAR SPEAKERS:

Dr. Petra Hauke, Secretary of IFLA Environment, Sustainability and Libraries Section;

Svetlana N. Silaeva, Head of International Cooperation Department, Russian National Public Library for Science and Technology;

Maria A. Klimova, Junior Researcher, Ecology and Sustainable Development Group, Russian National Public Library for Science and Technology
